LEADership Forum 2023

"Leadership, it means leading a group of individuals with diverse backgrounds towards specific goals. However, it is also important to strike a balance between the team's goals and every member's needs. Leadership requires passion, discipline and empathy. With these qualities, I believe that one would be able to bring one's team to greater heights, while still taking care of one's team members."

TPSC x Yellow Ribbon Project : Breaking Barriers

182 students attended this 1-day event that encourage participants to empathise, accept, embrace and reintegrate ex-offenders back into our community.

547 LEAD students attended the recent LEAD Core events. LEAD students gained valuable insights about the topics of sustainability, social inequality and Singapore's renewing social compact.

LEAD Heart

We had a GOH speaker who enlightened students with her sharing! Here are reflections from one of the participants.

What was the most eye-opening fact you heard?

Despite the many measures already instituted (e.g. Subsidised education) that are in place to support one's livelihoods, it still may not be enough for families in unfavourable circumstances.

How has it helped you become more empathetic?

The experiential activities were particularly useful in letting me see the condition of rental flat residents and understand their thought processes & and feelings when struggling to make certain decisions.

LEAD Summit

What are your takeaway from the event?

"LEAD summit was definitely insightful, it opened up my world view on the ways we as individuals and organisations can work towards being sustainable in our daily lives.

During the sharing of the discussion, it was productive as it helped me realised that there are actually cost efficient ways everyone can practice to play a part in living a sustainable lifestyle."
